

FEARLESS TRANSFORMERS

NOVEMBER NEWSLETTER

A Letter from the Founder

Dear Fearless Family,

As the season shifts and gratitude fills the air, I'm reminded of how far we've come—and how much further we're destined to go together. November is always a month of reflection for me: a time to celebrate growth, transformation, and the fearless young women who continue to rise through our programs.

This month, our girls are diving deeper into emotional intelligence—learning to understand themselves, manage their emotions, and lead with empathy. Watching their confidence bloom reminds me why Fearless Transformations exists: to create spaces where courage, curiosity, and purpose collide.

I'm deeply grateful for our mentors, partners, and community supporters who continue to pour into this mission. Together, we're not just changing lives—we're shaping the future of leadership in Detroit and beyond.

With gratitude,

Cleo Elledge

Founder & Executive Director

FEARLESS LEADER

PRINCIPAL LATOYIA WEBB

“A Little About Principal Webb...”

- City of Birth: Detroit, MI
- High School: Cass Technical High School
- College/University: Eastern Michigan University (undergrad) and Wayne State University (grad).
- Goals or dreams you had when you were younger: I knew, since I was 7 years old, I wanted to be a teacher. I would line up my stuffed animals in rows and have school with them every Saturday.

PRINCIPAL Appreciation MONTH

In October, we are responsible, empathetic and show respect. Where in life, or throughout Fearless, does one or all of these principles apply to you?

As a school leader I demonstrate respect in all of my interactions with students, staff, and parents. I give respect, so I expect to be respected. I am a firm believer that yes, you have to earn respect, it should not be taken for granted.

My vision for the future of Fearless

Transformations is continuing to look forward to the affects of the the work of Fearless Transformations with our young ladies at Central High School.

Why is mentoring important to you and how is it reflected in your work or within the school community?

Mentoring is very important, as it takes a village to raise and educate a child. It's not enough for young people to only have (1) outlet or means to communicate or express themselves, they need as many as possible. Mentors provide our students with a different perspective, another voice.

When you're not working with Fearless Transformations or being a principal, how do you like to spend your time?

When I am not working, doing absolutely nothing brings me so much joy.

FEARLESS TRANSFORMERS

Honoring Principal Webb, Our Girls, and Our Community

Although October's newsletter went out before we could share Principal Webb's interview, we still want to take a moment to recognize her leadership and partnership. October is Principal Appreciation Month, a time when we pause to acknowledge the incredible principals who guide, uplift, and support our schools.

Fearless Transformations is deeply grateful to Principal Webb and the entire counseling team for welcoming our mentors into the building and allowing us to pour into their young ladies. Their commitment to community, growth, and student empowerment is truly inspiring.

As we shift into November, we honor the many celebrations this month brings. First, November 11th is Veterans Day, and we extend our heartfelt appreciation to every veteran for your courage, service, and dedication to our country.

November also reminds us to slow down and reflect on gratitude; gratitude for health, family, community, and purpose. As we approach our second year of Fearless Transformations, we are profoundly thankful for our families, our brilliant girls, our mentors, our community partners, and you, yes, you, reading this newsletter. Your support continues to make our mission possible.
